Please join the Las Cruces Museum Curators of Education for an evening of educational events and conversation!

Thursday, December 12, 4-6 pm
Branigan Cultural Center
501 N. Main Street

Did you know that each of the four City of Las Cruces museums offers guided tours, workshops, and curricular materials for students and families of all ages? Come to the Branigan Cultural Center and learn about resources for teachers available through the museums.

Join educators from all of the City of Las Cruces Museums on Thursday, December 12, 4-6 pm, to learn about educational offerings that might work for your students. Educators from the Railroad Museum, Museum of Art, Museum of Nature and Science, and the Branigan Cultural Center will be on hand with curricula, educational materials, and information on tours, workshops, and classes offered at the museums. We are also available to discuss custom programs we can develop to meet your curricular needs. The evening will also feature an educator-led tour of the newly opened exhibit Lincoln: The Constitution and the Civil War.

Educators from all schools, home schools, and other educational institutions are welcome! For more information, please contact Beth Stone at 575.541.2219 or estone@las-cruces.org.
